15 Hour Creativity, sequencing and language

professional development

Teacher Training

May 2021 Australian Yoga Academy Prahlan

Information Pack

Thank you for your interest in this 15 Hour creativity, sequencing and language development teacher training.

This professional development training is available for already qualified yoga teachers of any style of yoga, with a recommended 6 months minimum teaching experience.

The intention of this training is to spark your creativity and inspiration for developing your language and sequencing your yoga classes.

Sometimes as teachers we can feel weighed down with the nuts and bolts of anatomy and alignment, and find it hard to access our creativity, or even worry that if we are too colourful or creative with our language that we may trigger our students.

How do you create a theme for your class? And how do you develop this concept so that it can stay subtle and yet still have layers and depth? Are you unintentionally excluding some of your students with your language and ideas? Do you find yourself believing you are “not creative?”

This training offers a wide variety of exploratory practices to help you get in touch with your own physical senses, as well as develop some skills in drawing out your creativity and giving it structure.

The first weekend we will explore creative writing, finding the narratives of the body, creative partner exchange, meditative exploration, musical immersion, and group workshopping of “how to” develop themes in an inclusive way for our students. The first two days of the training will be completed with very special musical guest appearances, facilitating a deep sensory/workshop experience.

The second weekend is dedicated entirely to presentation and feedback. Each participant can use the time in between the two weekends to craft a 30 minute practice of their choice and present this to a small group of course participants in order to receive valuable feedback and development.
